It's the Twentieth!

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Usually a round anniversary makes a nice reason for celebrations and retrospections. The "Polish Prestige" — Janów Sale was born in 1970. In 20 years both you — the guests and us — the hosts turned this event into an international festival of Arabian horse.

This meeting of the World of Arabian Horse breeders and enthusiasts has been helping in making friends and acquaintances between wonderful people from all parts of Earth.

We all, the poor and the rich, Janów peasants and members of the old aristocracy, hosts and visitors, breeders and grooms, Poles and foreigners — we all make the members of one club — The Polish Prestige Club.

We have together enjoyed the record breaking prices at the Sale, a proof that the Arabian horse breeding is a sound and successful venture. We also have been happy to see smaller breeders and newcomers obtaining the horses they dreamed of at affordable prices, a hint that breeding still brings joy and happiness.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Thank you all for years of love of the Arabian horses, thank you for friendship to the Polish people and for your continuous good will for Poland of today.

The fact that you participate in the pure Polish breeding programme, that you believe in the same breeding ideas and share with us the common dream of a perfect beauty of a horse, this enters you, dear friend into the colorful heritage of Royal Poland. The epoch which should be given credit for the present success of our Arabian horses.

Let's just imagine the chain of generations of breeders and horses that anchor our present breeding in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Let's fill our eyes with the splendor of the Sovereign Republic of Two Nations, Poland united by royal marriages with Lithuania into the largest state of Europe.

An original seventeenth century scroll-painting pictures the ceremonial entry of the Royal wedding parade of the King Sigismund Vasa and the Austrian princess Constantia Habsburg into the Capital City of Cracow in 1607.

The files of fierce Polish winged hussairs follow...

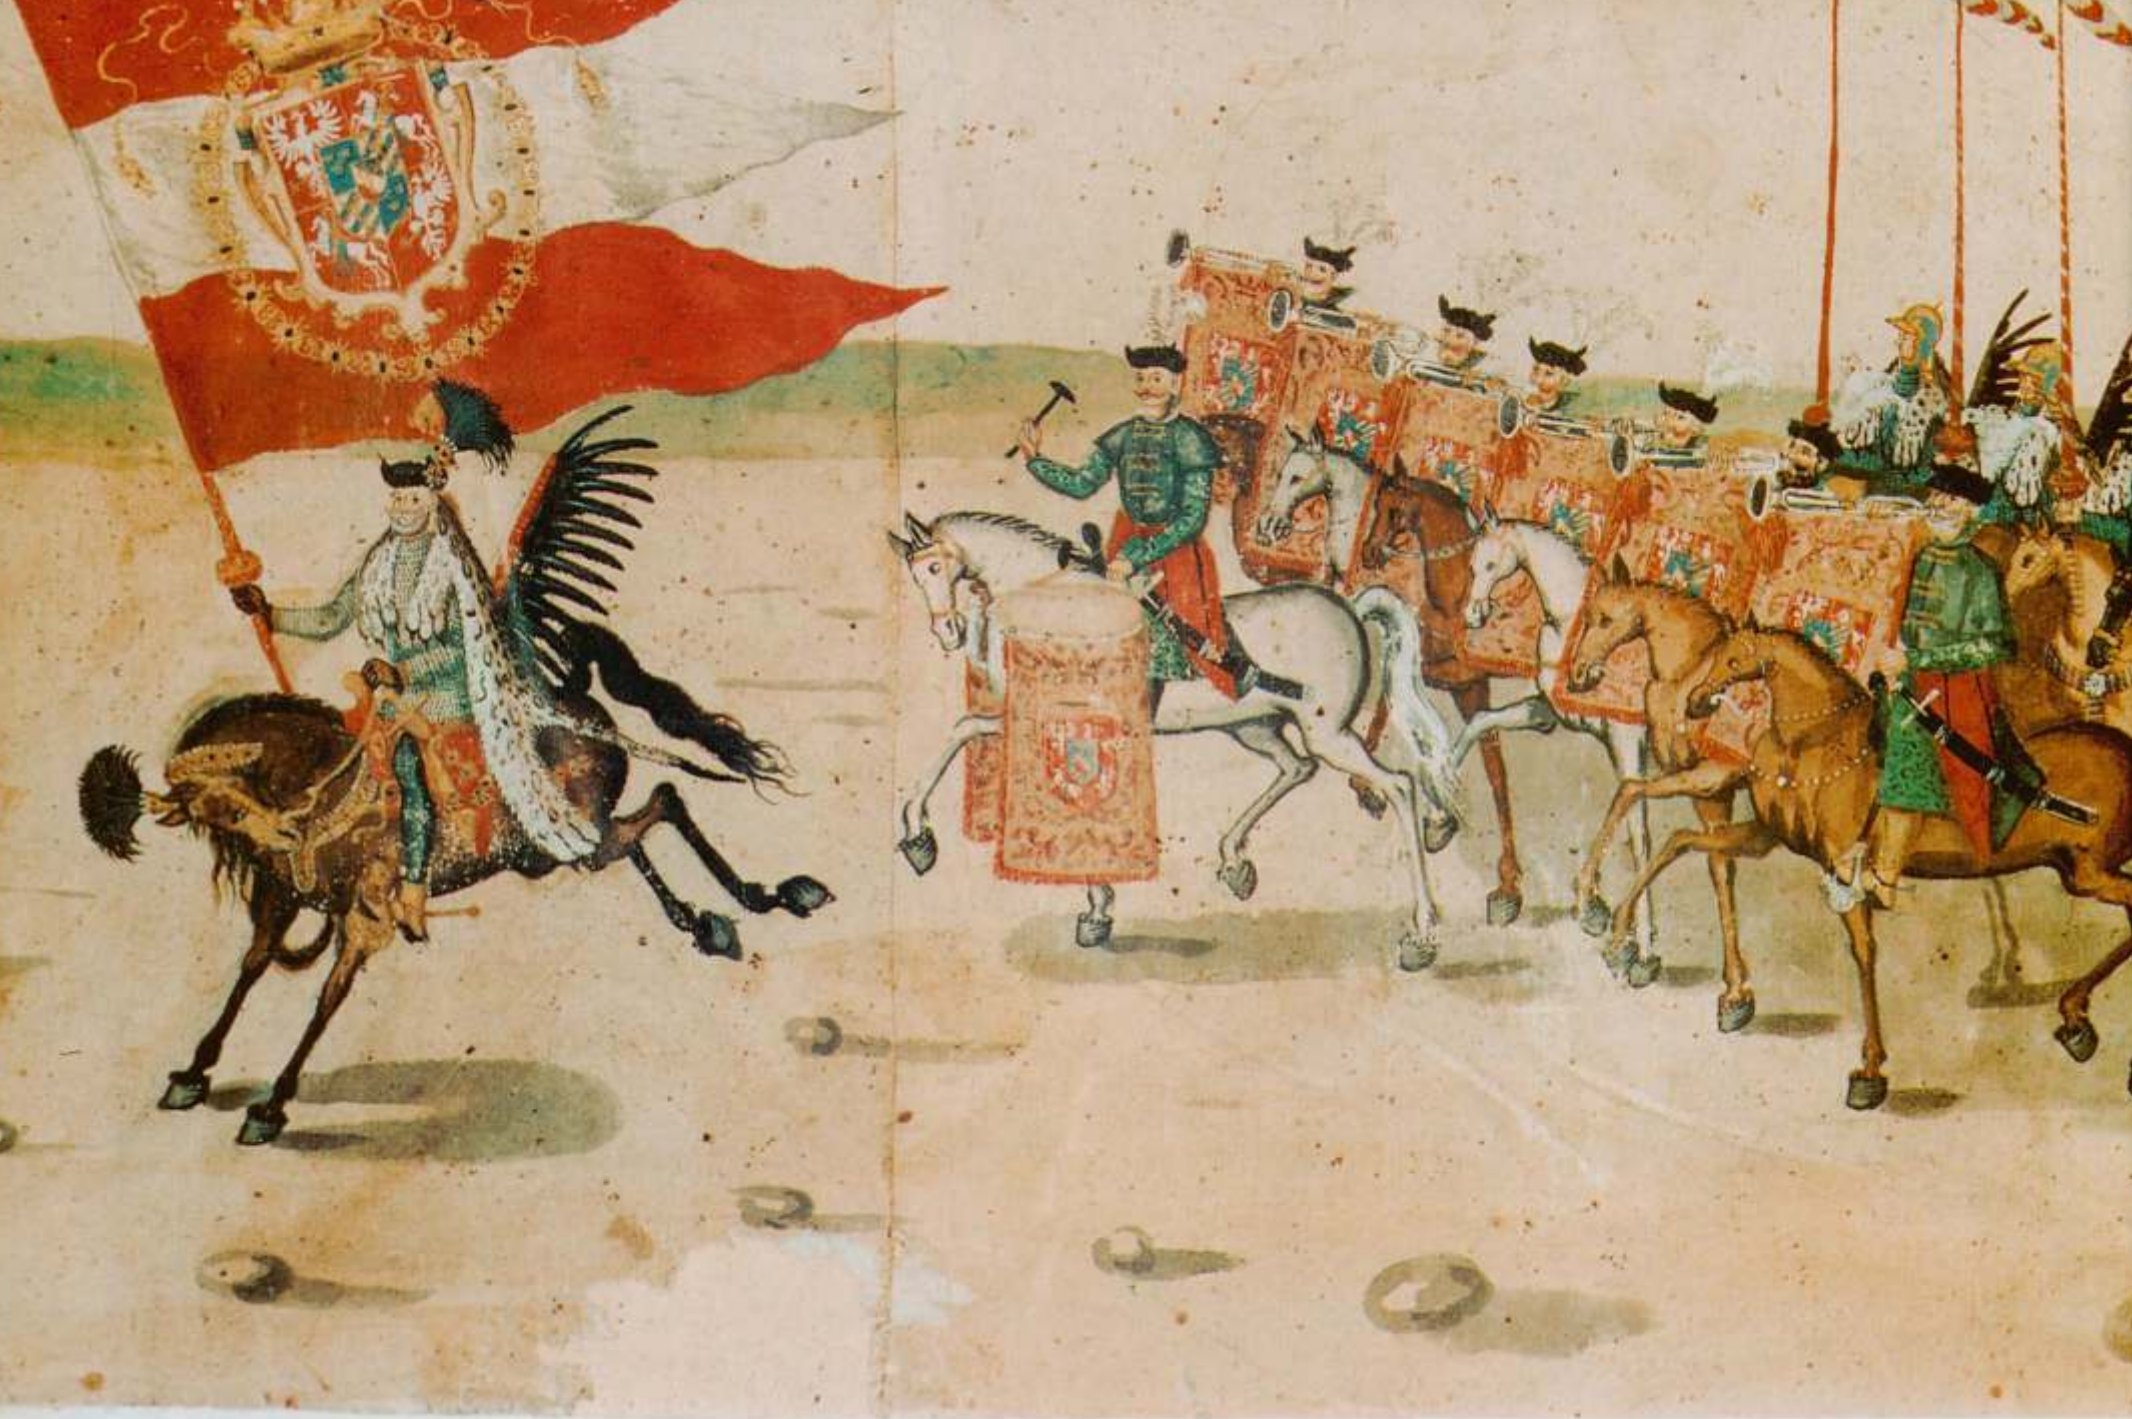

The King dazzles the crowd with jewels of his stables, the noblest stallions. Dressed in rich caparisons and oriental saddles. Don't ask if they are pure! Poland hates imitations, the real eagles on the shields, rare skins of African animals on armours, imported feathers on casques. Poland borders with the East. Poland fights but also loves the East and is deeply fascinated with its culture, egzotic fashion and art. Poles import not only purest horses, skins and feather but also weapons, dresses even oriental delicacies.

Two riders on horseback, each leading a pack animal. The pack animals are decorated with colorful saddles and harnesses. The scene is set against a simple background with a horizontal green band.

Foreign delegations reflect the Republic's broad political relations.
Black dresses of Western diplomats mix with colorful costumes of Poles and Lithuanians.

Illustration of a medieval military or ceremonial procession, showing knights on horseback in various armor and capes, including red, blue, and black, with some carrying flags and banners.

One of the mounted King's courtiers throws away gold commemorative medals eagerly picked by the gapers.
Moscow envoy in red dress mounted on a small pony closes the group of foreign guests.

Protected by two rows of the Kings body-guards the highest authority of state arrive: The Royal Council, four bishops, the Primate in red accompanied by the Pope's nuncio,
